

Earth Fountain, 2016
Philippe Klinefelter
Texas red granite

4800 Camp Bowie Blvd, 76107
Byers Green Triangle
FWPA Commission

- Do you think the sphere is made out of pieces that have been joined together or one solid piece?
- The artist is interested in geology. How does water relate to geology and how is it reflected in the work?
- How does the landscaping of the park affect the work?

Riding into The Sunset, 1942
Electra Waggoner Biggs
Bronze

Will Rogers Memorial Center
FWPA Community Legacy Artwork

- Do you recognize these two famous figures?
- Why do you think that this piece was placed in this location? Do you think that this is a unique work designed for this location?
- Have you seen this work before?

Equestrian Multipurpose Building Mosaic Murals, 2012
Mike Mandel
Porcelain and glass tile

Equestrian Multipurpose Building
Will Rogers Memorial Center
FWPA Commission

- What source material do you think the artist used for this composition?
- Why do you think the artist selected these images?
- How does the scale of the imagery impact your experience?

When most people think of public art, they think of statues of historic figures, but public art can take many forms, such as a free-standing sculpture, a mosaic integrated into a building's architecture, or even something functional like a water fountain or table.
What are some of the creative ways artists incorporated art into public spaces that you saw today?

Share pictures from your visit on Social Media and tag @FWPublicArt or use the hashtag #FWPublicArt